jesus bible explores the development of the hebrew scriptures from their prehistory all the way to the period of their crystallization in the middle ages drawing upon christian jewish and non confessional scholarship christopher doss demonstrates that the hebrew bible underwent radical growth and development over a period of approximately two thousand years and that the bible of jesus day was strikingly different from what believers often assume it to have been the hebrew english jewish scriptures volume 2 the prophets this book comprises the section known as the prophets containing 21 books beginning with joshua and ending with malachi the hebrew and the english are on facing pages for this edition i have altered both the hebrew and english from the sources especially to conform to the actual leningrad codex circa year 1009 most notably in the ten commandments of exodus 20 and deuteronomy 5 i relegated the 1 110 rabbinical qere additions to footnote notations in the hebrew text making it so that readers of hebrew can read the hebrew text just as the masoretes intended other jewish publications force the reading of the later edition margin notes before but also obscuring the original written text which rabbis designate as ketiv so this innovation in the pill tanakh makes reading what the authors wrote natural in addition to altering some english verses to correspond closer to the hebrew text i also changed the over 5 000 instances where the title the lord god is now yehovah a transliteration of the divine name corresponding to the hebrew text where that phrase is found again this is volume 2 the prophets the second part of a three volume set of torah prophets and writings which make up the entire jewish scriptures
